

ARIEL

2018 CABERNET SAUVIGNON

PRODUCTION NOTES

ARIEL Cabernet Sauvignon is a dealcoholized wine composed of Cabernet from the 2018 vintage, produced in a sustainable winery in Paso Robles, California. After undergoing fermentation in stainless steel cooperage, the wine is separated from the skins, and a portion of it is moved into oak for extended aging. Just prior to bottling, the alcohol is gently removed by cold filtration, leaving less than 0.5% alcohol by volume.
